RAILROAD REPORTS.

What the P. C. & St. L. People Think of the Little Miami Division.

The report of the P. C. & St. L. Railroad company for the year ending June 30, 1886, contains the following about the Little Miami division: In a note in this it is stated that on May 12 extensive damage by storm made it necessary to build temporary trestles at various points. On the 30th day of June most of these trestles were still in use, but the permanent structures were in course of erection, and the temporary ones are not included in the report. The rolling stock belonging to the Miami, and used principally between Columbus and Cincinnati consists of 45 engines, 12 express and baggage, 2 mail, 47 passenger, 776 freight and 18 other cars, the locomotives and passenger coaches all being equipped with the Westernhouse automatic air brake. In operating the road, 1,367 persons are employed. During the year 1,232,552 passengers were carried, 1,127,429 being local and 104,923 through; 1,121,069 tons of freight were transported, 586,700 through and 534,999 local. The earnings were: for passenger traffic, $522, 501.74; freight, $779,192.89; mail service, $55,252.80; express service, $51,378.58; other sources, $255,711.26; total, $1,667,

007.27. Operating expenses were $1,309, 925.19; net earnings, $297,122.08; rent of Little Miami, $68,810.40; interest on Cincinnati steam connection, $51,500; deficit to lessee, $418,187.32. Fifteen persons were killed and nineteen injured. A total for personal injuries and loss of property of $14,755.09 were paid, of which $5,042.53 was to employees.

A Springfield Vocalist Complimented.

The Cincinnati Musical Standard, of Sept. 14, in the report of the proceedings of the Ohio Music Teachers' Association, at Columbus, pays the following deserved compliments to Miss Anna Voll, of this city: "The vocalist of the programme, Miss Anna Voll, of Springfield, sang with exquisite effect. Her voice is a fine, pure soprano, exhibiting admirable training. This is the young lady who carried off a Springer gold medal at the College of Music of Cincinnati, and subsequently traveled with the Beethoven club. This little songbird established herself at once as a general favorite—giving a cavatina from "L'Africaine," in place of the one announced, which was rendered in the evening programme.

Miss Voll's solo was the vocal gem of the evening, and was beautifully sung—the effort being far in advance of that of the afternoon. It requires unusual vocal ability to compass such a selection as Gounod's "Ballade," but the little lady met with all its requirements. You must fly over this way again next year, Miss Voll, and warble some more for us.

Miss Voll makes a tour throughout Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia next month.

In a concert company with Prof. Bellstedt, the famous cornetist, of Cincinnati, Prof.

Burke,
